Finish Evansville Road Next Year; No. 20 up to State

Disposal of the controversy over Highway 20 from Janesville to Brodhead by holding to its resolution passed last week, asking it be relocated as close to the present route as possible; deciding that the Evansville-Janesville road be completed next year, and laying plans to start concreting highway 20 eastward next year if the Janesville-Brodhead route is not located—these were the high spots in the closing session of the special meeting of the Rock county board of supervisors Tuesday afternoon.

Explaining the only way in which they hope to solve the concrete road problem in Rock county is to stick to a definite program for each year. Supervisor Moore's report of the highway committee that the requests from Edgerton and Clinton that short pieces of concrete to county lines be not granted, was sustained by the board, 22-15.

To Quit Quibbling.
"Just so sure as we start building little pieces like these, others whose claims are equally just will ask for the same thing," said Mr. Moore. "We believe, with the state and federal aid, we will have enough funds to build the full 100 miles of concrete planned for Rock county within the $1,500,000 bond issue was passed. We can't do it if we have to fight every year."

Mr. Moore said the policy adopted by the board last year was that construction of parts of trunk lines be completed in the 100 miles that it was not planned to complete Evansville next year. Sentiment was in favor of the completion of this road. When the matter was referred to the highway committee, it reported favorably and their action was sustained, 22-15. Supervisor Moore asked permission to have the grading contract on the Evansville road.

Save on Grading.
The contract for the grading work will be let soon. Commissioner Moore said so the time may be given for the work to progress to a stage where there would be no interference with surfacing. At the present time, the construction is going on the heels of the grading work, Mr. Moore said.

It takes the grading crews longer to do the grading than it takes to lay the concrete, said Mr. Moore. The grading contractor ought to have two months' start. It means a saving of thousands of dollars. The grades will be allowed to set for a month or so before the concrete is laid.

Monthly Calls Perigo.
Supervisor Perigo, Beloit, charged it was a change of front. The board of the Evansville committee recommended that the Evansville road be completed next year. Supervisor Moore challenged the board to show it was not going to let the Evansville road be completed next year. The board sustained his action.

Hot Retaliations.
Through the report of the highway committee, the attempt of some board members to pin the Evansville road on the Evansville committee was defeated. The Evansville committee reported that the Evansville road be completed next year. The board sustained his action.

May Build to Delavan.
If a report on the relocation of the Janesville-Brodhead road is not given by August 1, the resolution (Continued on page 6.)

'COMPANY UNIONS' THREAT OF ROADS HELD UNFORTUNATE

ATTACKS LABOR RIGHTS WHICH ARE NOT DIRECTLY INVOLVED. BASED ON PENN Labor Board Also 'Jims' up Situation by Protecting Strikebreakers.

By DAVID LAWRENCE. Copyright, 1922, by The Janesville Gazette.

Washington.—Declaration by L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson, and other leaders of the railroad executive group, that "company unions" would be formed as the basis hereafter for negotiations between railroads and their employees was regarded in official quarters here as a most unfortunate utterance at this time.

Such statements, it was pointed out by government officials, attacking rights of labor which are not directly involved in the pending dispute, can serve only to inflame the union men who are not now on strike, particularly the brotherhoods of trainmen and engineers, and will not contribute to early industrial peace.

Mr. Loree's announcement, it was assumed by officials as well as by spokesmen of the American Federation of Labor, who criticized the step, was evidently made before the full text of the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals of the Northern Illinois district was received in New York and thoroughly studied. That decision deals a death blow to the effort of the Pennsylvania railroad to establish a "company union" and it was largely on the precedent of what the Pennsylvania railroad had attempted that Mr. Loree's declaration on behalf of the railroad executives was built.

Workers Are Unhappily.
The truth is, the federal courts have upheld the right of workmen to be represented by men of their own choosing and without coercion or restriction on the part of their employers. An employer who attempts to circumvent the law by choosing representatives for the workmen was declared void by the U. S. labor board and the courts now have upheld the right of the workmen to decide (Continued on page 2.)

REPUBLICAN PARTY HOLDS LIMELIGHT IN STATE PRIMARY

ALL LEADING CANDIDATES BUT ONE FACING OPPOSITION. ONE DEM. CONTEST Bentley-Mathie Fight Only Mix in Ranks; Papers All Are Filled.

BULLETIN.
Madison.—Indication was given here by opponents of Judge Henry H. Griggs, that the primary election action would be commenced to prevent the piling of his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for congress from the ninth Wisconsin district. The date for participating in an election during the term of his office, is said by opponents of Judge Griggs to preclude the submission of his name to the voters.

Madison.—The political contest preceding the primary elections in Wisconsin, September 5, will be confined largely to the republican party. It was shown Wednesday when the last nomination papers were filed with the secretary of state.

All republican candidates for U. S. senate, state officers and congress, with the single exception of Congressman James A. Frazier in the 10th congressional district, have opposition, with the division between La Follette supporters and the opponents.

Supporting the Leinroot amendment, Senator Hefflin, (democratic), Alabama, read into the record parts of an editorial appearing in the New York Herald, which charged that the wool duties were made and were being "driven through" the senate by senators financially interested in the production of wool.

That presents a very serious situation, declared the Alabama senator. "The time was when members of both houses would not participate in such a scheme," he said. "It is a perversion of the legislative power as the fathers intended it should be used."

Denison, Tex. rail shops placed under martial law. Forty women attack non-union men at Toledo shops. Two pickets shot by guard at Croston, Ill.

Chicago. With the government securing registration of freight traffic from new unions of shopmen and railroads continuing their efforts to form new unions of shopmen and indications from Montreal that 40,000 Canadian "shopmen" had been authorized, peace in the railway strike Wednesday seemed remote. On the other hand, good will was apparent in the meeting held at Baltimore between officials of the B. & O. and representatives of shopmen.

Plans have been perfected for delivering mail by mail train, and the division of the Northern railway passing through this city are faced with a coal shortage. This statement was made Wednesday by W. P. Cornell, Chicago division, trainmaster, who has been working in the yards here since the strike broke.

The Janesville piles are used to supply seven coal bins, including Madison, Janesville and this city. Hundreds tons a day are being shipped out of here.

May Shut Down when Supply Is Gone, Says Division Trainmaster.
With only 12,000 tons of coal remaining at the South Janesville yard, the division of the Northwestern railway passing through this city are faced with a coal shortage. This statement was made Wednesday by W. P. Cornell, Chicago division, trainmaster, who has been working in the yards here since the strike broke.

Asked what would be done after the supply is exhausted, Mr. Cornell said the road must be shut down. Only about 15 days' supply is in sight.

The St. Paul line is receiving a steady supply from its mines in Indiana, Kentucky and this city. It was said by officials here, the St. Paul may supply fuel to the Northwestern.

No official reports have been received by the roads here on the national freight embargo.

Would Hit 100 Men.
It is going into effect, according to press reports, said Trainmaster Cornell. It will probably mean the closing down of the gravel and sand pits in Janesville, involving about 100 men out of work, and halting all road building and other construction.

One more man has been hired at the St. Paul yards, making 10 men. No men have yet been employed at the Northwestern.

H. B. Loucks, Jr., Madison, Northwestern traveling agent, was here Tuesday and Wednesday. He said that the Northwestern had been hired by his company in Madison.

WEEK TO SEE LONG CONCRETE STRETCH

County Builders to Complete Six and Half Miles Toward Evansville.

Another week's work will see one solid piece of concrete from Janesville, six and a half miles toward Evansville on Highway 10. The concrete from Janesville to the end of the "four mile piece," will soon be completed.

The end of next week, it is expected, will see the equipment being moved to within four miles of Evansville, from which point the crew will work back toward Janesville for five miles. The pit this side of the four mile bridge will be abandoned and the Kiesler pit used. Commissioner Charles L. Moore expects the five miles toward Evansville will be completed and Engineer Ryan of the state highway commission said Tuesday he expected a mile or two toward Evansville also will be built this year. This would leave but a short stretch to be constructed early next year.

At present, material is being hauled about three miles. Six engines, running on the track, pull 10 cars of gravel, sand and rock record.

Cost of concrete roads built in Rock county last year made a low record for Wisconsin, according to Mr. Moore. In 1931, the cost was $22,000 a mile; 1932 saw it lower to $20,000 and this year the approximate cost per mile is $23,000. Contractors' figures have been lower this year than in the last two years, but not to compare with the county figures. The Birdsell contract is $25,000 a mile.

At the end of 1932, with 11 miles completed on the Evansville road and the seven miles between Beloit and Clinton constructed, Rock county will have 45 miles of concrete. Rock county is going slow in the construction of concrete, while other counties are rushing. It is not costing this county the amount being paid by others, Mr. Moore said, and the work can be done right.

"COMPANY UNIONS" THREAT OF ROADS HELD UNFORTUNATE

Unfortunately, the labor board is attempting to protect strikebreakers in the present railroad crisis. The board declared that if the men now at work formed new unions they would be recognized. The men who do not want to work who are being deprived of the right to be represented by the American Federation of Labor or any other organization of their own making rather than the company's thought to be a sure sign of an interpretation of the labor board's invitation to form new unions was widely distributed before being denied.

Harding Opposes Labor President Harding himself is on record in direct contradiction of what Mr. Lorne has announced, namely the formation of unions by company direction. The president, in his December address to congress, stated the case as follows:

"The right of labor to organize is as fundamental and necessary as the right of capital to organize. The right of labor to organize is as fundamental and necessary as the right of capital to organize. The right of labor to organize is as fundamental and necessary as the right of capital to organize."

Indeed the contention of many union leaders in private is that the present industrial crisis is being prolonged in an effort to break up the influence and power of the unions, a circumstance which has been back in the minds of the railroad executives ever since the roads were turned over to their owners by government. It has been at the bottom of the trouble not only in the rail but the coal strikes. In fact in the coal situation the operators have insisted that they would not bear the burden if the government would furnish protection to strike breakers. This protection by federal and state troops is being furnished while a test is being made of the soundness of the operators' contention. For if coal production doesn't increase soon, the aid of union men will make to be involved through some device other than government conference or mediator.

Many Join Unions At the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor it was pointed out that the history of industrial warfare proved the tendency on the part of the strikebreakers to vanish after a strike is settled. Usually they go back to other fields of employment or find their new work unsuitable. But one thing labor organizations was unquestioned, namely that when a strike is over the men who have been out do not desert the unions, but many non-union men join the ranks.

Results of the outcome of the effort to form company unions, with strike breakers as a nucleus, the broad question of what the attitude of the hundreds of thousands of union men will be when they get back to work has to be solved before it can be determined whether the company unions will win the membership of the returning strikers, or become a minority to be used by the company as a rival to the other union organizations.

Back to the Grain Fields for Health

GRAPE-NUTS is a regular "three bags full" of the best food qualities of whole wheat flour and malted barley, carefully mixed and slowly baked—

To develop all their appetizing flavor,
To preserve all their wholesomeness,
And to provide nature's "broom" that keeps the digestive system spick and span.

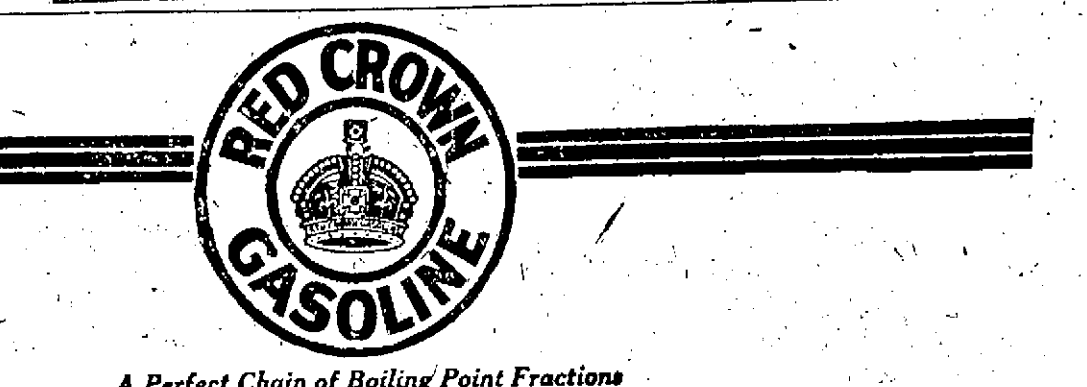

There's not a bit of artificial sweetening in Grape-Nuts—it just becomes sweet of its own accord in the long baking.

And that enticing flavor—how good it is with good milk or cream! Fruits, too, fresh or cooked, add to the delight of a dish of Grape-Nuts, morning, noon or sundown.

It is a compact, ready-to-eat food—no cooking needed. Why not try it for tomorrow's breakfast?

Use Red Crown Gasoline and Get Power When You Need It

Sustained pulling power—tremendous power is what Red Crown delivers to your rear wheels. It contains a range of boiling point fractions that insure the maximum of power your engine is capable of developing.

Steep hills, deep mud—if they can be made—you can make them with Red Crown in your tank.

Red Crown delivers steam-engine like pressure to the piston that produces a steady flow of power.

Red Crown does not let down. That's one reason for its wide-spread popularity.

SARTELL GETS BOY AND SMILE PRIZE

Nolan Has Broad Look of Delight; Wonder Why?

The happiest man in Janesville, Wednesday, was discovered by the Gazette's smile seeker, when he met Edwin J. Sartell, city clerk. The reason: a seven pound boy born to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Sartell, 109 South Third street, at six a. m. Sartell worked until early this morning preparing city records, but despite his worldly worries, he smiled, his eyes were a big smile.

Thomas Nolan, candidate for state senator, was picked as one of Wednesday's winners. Mr. Nolan declined to state the cause. Possibly it is the fact his opponent failed to file papers Tuesday.

The four others selected are Miss Helen Levy, 12 Jackson street; Miss Edith Riley, Western Union office; Miss Nellie Weiss, 116 North Jackson street; and Miss Sylvia Perce, deputy county clerk.

Each day during the remainder of the week the judge will pick the six people wearing the biggest and best smile.

Two theatre tickets apiece to the Apollo will be the prizes.

BALLOT BOXES HERE

Ballot boxes are at the Gazette building, J. M. Dosty, clerk, and at the following places: R. M. Bostwick & Son, Apollo theatre; Myers theatre; McIndoe boot shop; Ziegler's Clothing Co.; Deitz-Druce and Co.; A. D. Foster Co.; Simpson Garment Store; Frank D. Kimball, and Solomon's.

Persons in the contest to find the clerk of manager of 15 Janesville establishments are pouring in. Interest is high. The leaders are Miss Josephine Connors, Ziegler's Clothing Co.; Charles Boutin, Myers shoe store; William Ullius, Wisconsin Electric Sales company; Owen Skavlem, Skelton's Hardware Co.; Charles E. Tontor, Shurtliff company; Ernest Clatworthy, J. M. Bostwick & Son; Miss Emma Brubacken, J. M. Bostwick & Son; and Miss Mary Klinsinger, J. M. Bostwick & Son.

The contest closes Saturday night and the winners announced Monday. Readers are asked to deposit votes in the ballot boxes or mail to the smile week editor. Prizes will be a three, two and one month pass to the Apollo for first, second and third place.

FINISH EVANSVILLE ROAD NEXT YEAR

The county committee will start surveys and plans for the construction of part of Highway 20 from Janesville east to Delavan. This was the part of the resolution to which supervisors objected. Onward changed the resolution gave the commission a loophole. The vote of the report of the committee carried, 21-18, as follows:

For ratification: Boynton, Denning, Draffach, Drew, Fink, Lowrey, Gilles, Jones, Lathers, Merriam, Mosely, McCarthy, Richardson, Rose, C. M. Smith, Snyder, Treadway, Tuller, Walker, Woodruff, and Dalton. Total—21.

Against ratification: Anderson, Arthur, Bruhn, Campbell, Clemenson, Connally, Doty, E. J. Fred, Hansen, Hafeman, Knight, Marthas, Onsgard, Paul, Paulson, Perigo, Van Wert, and Wixom. Total—18.

Re Ratify Construction.

The following resolution was introduced by resolution to take care of the complaints as to faulty construction of concrete roads, made by W. S. Perigo. It was presented by the highway committee:

Whereas, the county of Rock is interested to the extent of one-third of the cost of construction of concrete roads, and whereas, our past experience in the Beloit-Janesville road has shown defective construction, the county highway commission is instructed to report all defects or poor workmanship to the highway committee, who also to the county board.

Visit Actual Building.

The district attorney is asked to report to the county board what expenses the county is liable for in the conduct of the county assessor's office. This resolution was introduced by Supervisor Paulson, who has several times confronted the board.

About half the board members took the trip to the gravel pit to see the location of the construction work, and saw what county highway work is being done, following adjournment at 3:30 p. m.

The TATTOOED ARM

Isabel Ostrander—Copyright, NEA Service, Inc.

What horrible and mysterious power was forcing the three Drake brothers, Robert, William and Andrew, to place themselves in such a situation? Some power had forced Hobart to deliver a check to the public square, Robert to deliver a check to the public square, and Andrew to deliver a check to the public square. The three appear terror-stricken, and without their families.

FABRICIA DRAKE, daughter of Hobart, secured a detective sergeant, SCOTTIE McCREADY, to investigate. Miles is employed as a houseman and as a gardener. Following a series of mysterious events, Patricia suddenly disappears—an event which Miles cannot understand as he and Patricia were in each other's confidence. Possibly the attempt of her sister's aunt, Mrs. G. H. Drake, to break up her love affair with Miles.

RICHARD KEMP, has been the cause. Miles is suddenly summoned by Hobart Drake.

"William, I want you to take this letter to the home of Mr. Martin Kemp and deliver it to his son, Mr. Richard, personally. Be sure that you give it to no one else. If he asks you any questions tell him merely I said it was a matter of the utmost importance, but do not mention the fact that Miss Patricia has gone away. I think that I can trust you."

A trim-looking paragon opened the door of the Kemp bungalow in answer to his summons but shook her head when he asked for Mr. Richard. She had gone out motoring with the family and they won't be home until late this afternoon. They didn't say where they were going.

"Maybe you could leave the message to me and I'll give it to Mr. Richard."

"No, I have orders to deliver it myself. I ought to have brought it to Mr. Richard last night."

"He wasn't here. He had to take his mother to a theater party in the city. For Mr. Kemp wouldn't go himself. They never got back till half-past one. Who shall I tell Mr. Richard it was that sent you here?"

"I can't say. William had a message for him and he'll know," Miles smiled meaningly.

Miles returned with all haste to the Drake house and placed the letter again in Hobart's hands.

"Young Mr. Kemp took his mother to a theater party in town last evening, too, sir," he added. "They didn't get home till after one o'clock. I got home till after one o'clock. I got home till after one o'clock."

"Young Kemp was at the theater, you say?—Don't go. I want to think for a minute." Hobart turned and began slowly to pace the floor and it seemed to the detective that the assurance of his mother's safety was upon him like a dew. Then he sat down and wrote rapidly.

"I want you to go to this address and present this note to Mr. John Wells," said Hobart, replied, glancing at the envelope. It bore an address on West 2nd avenue. "Will there be any answer?"

"I will leave that to Mr. Wells. Be sure that you see him personally."

Wells was seated in his study and there seemed to be an added grimness about his mouth as he greeted the detective.

"It was expecting you," Mr. Drake telephoned.

"Then you know what has occurred. Do you mean that you have heard from Miss Patricia Drake herself?"

"Exactly," Wells nodded and, taking from the drawer a crumpled twist of paper, he held it out to the detective. See what you can make of that while I read what Hobart has to say about the matter."

The paper was of poor texture, limp and grimy, and as he smoothed it Miles saw that it was lined not only across the page but vertically at each side. It appeared to be a fragment torn from a larger sheet and the few soft blue crayon were so blurred and smudged as to be almost illegible. Sentences hastily scribbled upon it in "Dear Mr. Wells."

Have promised man who brings this that you will give him five dollars and ask no questions. You will harm all of us if you do. I have left home and am safe. Don't look for me, will work without fail but no one else must know you have heard from me. This is vital for everyone's sake. Warn M. look out for tattooed arm. PAT."

"What time did you receive it and what did you do when it came, Mr. Wells?"

"What she asked," The attorney shrugged. "About ten o'clock this morning the man presented himself and I went to the vestibule to give him the money personally and have a look at him. He was a rough-looking character but respectful enough."

"What did he look like?" Miles asked. "Did you get the young lady's note, sir?" he asked. "If you're Mr. Wells, she said there would be something coming to me. I admitted my identity, handed him a five-dollar bill and watched him go off down the street. On snap judgment he might have been a porter, mechanic—you know the type. But what do you make of the letter?"

"The letter was not written under compulsion. This is self-evident. She left the house of her own free will, without taking me into her confidence. Indeed, I have reason to think that she had an appointment with someone who waited outside the door to aid her in her flight and it could not have been the young man who is in love with her, for his presence elsewhere has been established."

"What can be the meaning of her reference to a tattooed arm?"

"When we have learned that, Mr. Wells," responded Miles, "we will be on our way toward dispelling the nightmare of grotesque horror which hangs over the Drake family. Our young client has stumbled upon the path to the truth."

Grapefruit Salad—One cup grapefruit, one-quarter cup marshmallows, cut in fourths, one-quarter cup diced celery, one-quarter teaspoon salt, two tablespoons cottage cheese, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, three tablespoons salad dressing, two lettuce leaves. Arrange grapefruit in small watermelon slices and place on top of vegetables. Cook at least an hour in a slow, moderate oven.

Round Steak with Vegetables—Two-thirds pound round steak, four potatoes, four onions, one-half cup water, (carrots may be added). Pound steak full of flour and brown meat thoroughly on both sides, place vegetables in small roaster, sprinkle with salt and paprika. Salt meat and place on top of vegetables. Cook at least an hour in a slow, moderate oven.

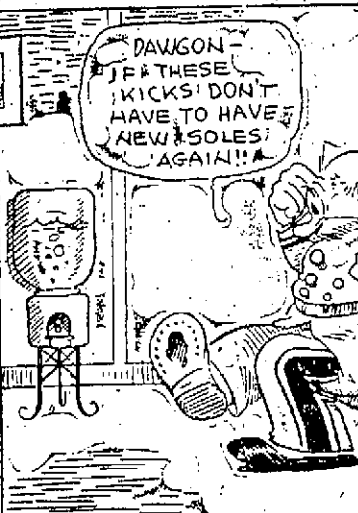

SUGGESTIONS
To Prevent Shoulders of dress slipping down and displaying straps of the underwear, where the dress is one that does not require to be laundered. Buy an inexpensive pair of lingerie clips and sew one on each side of the shoulder seam on the inside, about one inch from the neck opening and with the opening of the strap toward the neck. Fasten the straps of the underwear into the clips and you will find this will eliminate the annoyance of the dress slipping off the shoulders and it is much more convenient than pinning the shoulder each time you put the dress on.

To Seed Cherries without mashing the cherry or getting the juice on your fingers. Take a clean wire hair pin, put in stem end and lift up and you will be surprised to find how easily the stone will lift out without mashing the cherry or even getting the juice on a person's fingers.

The Useful Flour Bag—There are many ways in which the flour bag may be used. Two stitched together and hemmed, make a sheet for baby's bed, or with a little

SUMMER CREAMS
A thick creamy cream is too heavy for hot weather and should only be used now if the complexion is very dry, or if deep wrinkles are being treated. If the cold cream is too heavy it would make the skin perspire in hot weather and irritate it. The best general cream for summer weather is an ordinary cleansing cream made from white mineral oil. My formula is:

White wax ..... 1 ounce
Spermaceti ..... 1 ounce
Almond oil ..... 1/2 ounce
White mineral oil ..... 1/2 ounce
Rose water ..... 1 1/2 ounces
Borax ..... 30 grains
Oil of bitter almonds ..... 15 drops

This is made in the usual way by heating the oils, wax and spermaceti together until blended; adding the slightly warmed water and borax, heating the whole as it cools and pouring off before it hardens into jars. Such a cream is not only cleansing but helps to keep the skin soft and helps prevent sunburn.

Lettuce leaves, cucumber, cream and lotions are excellent for summer-time use. Honey-almond lotion, which is more difficult to make, is cooling, soothing, bleaching and good for the complexion with a tendency to early wrinkles. It is not cleansing, however, and should be used after the face has been bathed, not before as a cleansing cream.

Unless you like sunburn, it is a good suggestion to have all your summer cosmetics, bleaching, for instance, use a cleansing cucumber cream or cleansing cucumber lotion, or use the honey-almond lotion when the skin is too dry from exposure to wind and sun. Use a bleaching soap, preferably oatmeal. In spite of all these precautions you may tan, but not to such an annoying extent.

Patience—You can reduce the excess fat over your shoulders through exercising. If you can play tennis or row a boat you will be able to accomplish this. The fat will be consumed and the muscles made firm.

Dimples—The juice from cucumbers on each side of the shoulder seam on the inside, about one inch from the neck opening and with the opening of the strap toward the neck. Fasten the straps of the underwear into the clips and you will find this will eliminate the annoyance of the dress slipping off the shoulders and it is much more convenient than pinning the shoulder each time you put the dress on.

To Seed Cherries without mashing the cherry or getting the juice on your fingers. Take a clean wire hair pin, put in stem end and lift up and you will be surprised to find how easily the stone will lift out without mashing the cherry or even getting the juice on a person's fingers.

The Useful Flour Bag—There are many ways in which the flour bag may be used. Two stitched together and hemmed, make a sheet for baby's bed, or with a little feet her stitching around will make a breakfast cloth. One flour bag will make two dish-towels, or a laundry bag, or pillow-cases. By turning back the corners at the top and hemming the bottom, a scrap across the back and one around the neck, it makes an apron like the butcher wears. One cut in four, with the neck cut out, make baby four bibs after they are hemmed. Two sewed together, folded lengthwise and stitched up the side and bottom, with a drawstring at top, make a bag to keep the ironing board in when not in use. They can also be used to make bloomers and pantsie waists for girls.
